Thanks to the title of Andre Malraux's famous project, Film, Art, New Media: Museum Without Walls? invites readers to reflect on the museum of the future, where twentieth-century cinema will play a pivotal role by interrogating the relation between art and science, technology and nature, from the side of photography in dialogue with digitalization.

Film, Art, New Media: Museum Without Walls? - Museum ...

The museum, as Angela Dalle Vacche and the contributors to the new multidisciplinary anthology Film, Art, New Media: Museum without Walls? remind us, has long been a privileged locus for staging aesthetic as well as material encounters between film and its older (and increasingly its newer) artistic counterparts. Indeed, film 's progressive institutionalization and, more recently, its extra-theatrical life have both been deeply intertwined with the history of modern museums and galleries.
