Fortunately, changing manual transmission fluid in the A4 is actually easier than changing the oil, at least in a manual transmission car, because you don't have to change the filter as well. You simply drain the old lubricant and find a way to fill the transmission with new fluid. It's easier to do this job if you first raise the car to a level position (the fill hole, when the car is level, serves as the indicator that the transmission has the proper amount of oil in it), and then remove ...

Anyone ever flush their 5 spd manual transmission on the MK6 1.4 tsi Jetta? I have not looked under the car yet but is it just simply opening the drain bolt, draining the fluid, measuring what came out and refilling what was measured thru the filling port till it leaks out the side? Are there any special tools I would need to open the drain plug and fill port?
