Mercy For Animals examines how our country moved from a network of small, local farms with more than 50 percent of Americans involved in agriculture to a massive coast-to-coast industrial complex controlled by a mere 1 percent of our population--and the consequences of this drastic change on animals as well as our global and local environments. We also learn how MFA strives to protect farmed animals in behind-the-scenes negotiations with companies like Nestlé and other brand names ...

Mercy for Animals is an organization that is dear to my heart. I've heard Nathan Runkle speak numerous times on vegan podcasts and he is a special man. He's devoted much of his life to improving the quality of life for farm animals. He and his fellow cohorts from MfA have had to go deep into the ugly parts of factory farming to make this happen.

Nathan Runkle would have been a fifth-generation farmer in his small midwestern town. Instead, he founded our nation's leading nonprofit organization for protecting factory farmed animals. In Mercy For Animals, Nathan brings us into the trenches of his organization's work: from MFA's early days in grassroots activism, to dangerous and dramatic experiences doing undercover investigations, to ...

Mercy For Animals' vision is a world where animals are respected, protected, and free to pursue their own interests. We exist to end one of the greatest causes of suffering on the planet: the exploitation of animals for food. Mercy For Animals is dedicated to eradicating our cruel food system and replacing it with one that is not just kind to animals but essential for the future of our planet and all who share it.

I have admired the group, Mercy For Animals, for quite a while. Now, after reading about Nathan Runkle's life, I find that I adore him in a more personal way. He is a gentle soul--but, one who has incredible attributes and has created one of the most powerful organizations working to make the lives of farm animals better on every level.

Milo Runkle wrote in his Mercy For Animals: One Man's Quest to Inspire Compassion and Improve the Lives of Farm Animals, published in 2017, that he founded MFA after a biology teacher at his rural Ohio high school brought dead piglets to class to be dissected. One piglet was still alive, so a student who worked on the teacher's farm grabbed the piglet and slammed her headfirst against the floor.
